Research Papers

Under review

- When Does Static Willingness to Pay Mislead? A Framework for Dynamic Hedonic Valuation
- A Secret Worth Keeping? Bid Cap Design in Budget-Constrained Procurement Auctions (with Lana Friesen and Ian A. MacKenzie)

Research in Progress

- AI and Skill Development in Frontline Health Work: whether AI advice builds durable worker skill or mainly substitutes for knowledge at the moment of use.
- Advertising, Information, and Persuasion in Product Demand: a structural framework for distinguishing informative advertising from persuasive utility wedges in differentiated-product demand.
- Aggregate Rationalisability for Collective AI Systems: a label-free audit for when aggregate AI recommendations can be rationalised by coherent latent role-level decisions.
- Supernormal Stimuli: a behavioural framework for how engineered cues amplify demand by making immediate benefits vivid and longer-run costs obscure (with Colin Camerer and Zachary Wojtowicz).
- Behavioural Consensus Building: how public deliberation can shift social norms and create endorsement cascades that suppress scrutiny rather than improve information aggregation.
- Modern Slavery: a decision-theoretic analysis of risky migration and trafficking vulnerability under uncertainty (with Ian Jewitt).
- Diagnosing Behavioural Hazard in the Age of Algorithms: hypothesis generation from patient–chatbot data on why patients fail to undertake high-value medical care.
- Pandora’s Box with Competition: strategic search, inefficient stopping, and equilibrium distortions in competitive exploration (with Augustus Smith).
- The Effects of Algorithmic Exposure in Media Markets: dynamic demand, limited attention, recommendations, habit formation, and market power in media markets.
