Research Papers

Under review

- When Does Static Willingness to Pay Mislead? A Framework for Dynamic Hedonic Valuation
- A Secret Worth Keeping? Bid Cap Design in Budget-Constrained Procurement Auctions (with Lana Friesen and Ian A. MacKenzie)

Research in Progress

- Product Representation Strategy: Demand, Attention, and Firm Communication: a structural rational inattention demand model separating product attributes from firm representations, with an empirical application to panel data on packaged-food purchases.
- Persuasion Through Public Deliberation: a sequential persuasion model in which public histories generate social-image payoffs, endogenous scrutiny costs, and inefficient information aggregation.
- AI Assistance and Misperceived Learning: an experiment identifying whether AI assistance distorts beliefs about human capital accumulation by inducing overprediction of later unaided performance (with Eric Gao).
- Commitment Cascades: a model of delayed commitment demand in which naive present-biased agents update from failed intentions, generating cross-environment cascades in sophistication and commitment take-up (with Eric Gao).
- AI and Skill Development in Frontline Health Work: an experiment separating contemporaneous AI productivity effects from persistent human-capital accumulation among frontline health workers.
- Diagnosing Behavioural Hazard in the Age of Algorithms: hypothesis generation from patient–chatbot data on behavioural frictions in the take-up of high-value medical care (with Zachary Wojtowicz).
- Aggregate Rationalisability for Collective AI Systems: a label-free revealed-preference audit of whether aggregate AI recommendations admit coherent latent role-level rationalisations.
- Modern Slavery: a decision-theoretic model of risky migration and trafficking vulnerability under uncertainty (with Ian Jewitt).
