Research Papers

Under review

- When Does Static Willingness to Pay Mislead? A Framework for Dynamic Hedonic Valuation
- A Secret Worth Keeping? Bid Cap Design in Budget-Constrained Procurement Auctions (with Lana Friesen and Ian A. MacKenzie)

Research in Progress

- AI and Skill Development in Frontline Health Work: whether AI advice builds durable worker skill or mainly substitutes for knowledge at the moment of use.
- Product Claims, Product Truth, and Consumer Demand: a framework for measuring package communication relative to qualified product attributes and estimating its effect on differentiated-product demand.
- Diagnosing Behavioural Hazard in the Age of Algorithms: hypothesis generation from patient–chatbot data on why patients fail to undertake high-value medical care (with Zachary Wojtowicz).
- Aggregate Rationalisability for Collective AI Systems: a label-free audit for when aggregate AI recommendations can be rationalised by coherent latent role-level decisions.
- Social Pivotality and False Consensus: how public support changes the optimal order of persuasion by making later scrutiny socially costly and allowing consensus to form without full information aggregation.
- Supernormal Stimuli: a behavioural framework for how engineered cues amplify demand by making immediate benefits vivid and longer-run costs obscure (with Colin Camerer and Zachary Wojtowicz).
- Modern Slavery: a decision-theoretic analysis of risky migration and trafficking vulnerability under uncertainty (with Ian Jewitt).
